

■ ■ The Oppenheimer Award ■ ■

Oppenheimer Award recipient, Dennis Lieu (left) and Holly Ault (right).

The 2016-2017 Oppenheimer Award recipient is Dennis K. Lieu of the University of California, Berkeley for his presentation entitled, “Digital Creations from an Engineering Class in Animation: the Good, the Bad, and the Ugly.” His paper can be found in the EDGD 71st Midyear Conference Proceedings at <http://edgd.asee.org/conferences/proceedings.htm>

The Oppenheimer Award was established by Frank Oppenheimer to encourage the highest level of professionalism in oral presentations at the Engineering Design Graphics Division Midyear Meeting. This award is funded by a yearly cash award by the Oppenheimer Endowment Fund. The award was presented by Holly Ault, at the Awards Banquet of the 71st Midyear Conference held in Nashua, New Hampshire.

The award description can be found at:

<http://edgd.asee.org/awards/oppenheimer/index.htm>

The past awardees list can be found at:

<http://edgd.asee.org/awards/oppenheimer/awardees.htm>