

Greetings from the Editorial Board of GPEJ:

It is hard to believe that this is already our third edition of the journal! The number of papers submitted has increased with each edition, and we are receiving manuscripts on a broad range of topics. Topics have included the Global Understanding course as well as other approaches to global education.

With the increasing number of submissions comes an ever increasing workload for the editors. Our work would not be possible without the support of reviewers who give generously of their time to provide feedback on the manuscripts. We thank all the people who have provided reviews for the first three editions of GPEJ, and we have listed their names and institutions below. We are always searching for new reviewers to help ensure the quality of GPEJ. If you are interested in serving as a reviewer for GPEJ or if you have questions, please contact gpeinfo@ecu.edu. Here is a link to instructions for reviewers if you would like to learn more about the peer review process.

Finally, we have an important announcement. For future editions of GPEJ, a guest editor will join our staff for a one-year term through publication of the next edition of GPEJ. Alla Nazarenko from Lomonosov Moscow State University has graciously agreed to serve as our first guest editor. Welcome aboard Alla!

Thank you all for your continued support for the journal.
